DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

- 1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:
  - (a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.
- 2. Claims 1-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hopfer (US 4392108) in view of Scott et al (US 5748002)

As to claims 1, 7, 19, 20, Hopfer discloses (fig 1) an RF probe (10) including A conductive return (72. column 4 lines 60-65);

A insulator having a contact surface (14);

A probe conductor (18,20,22) positioned adjacent to the insulator contact surface (14,12)

However, Hofer does not disclose

A termination electrically positioned between the conductive return and the probe conductor, wherein the probe conductor is equidistant with the insulator along the contact surface

On the other hand, Scott et al disclose (fig 2A1) a termination electrically positioned between the conductive return and the probe conductor (21), wherein the probe conductor (21) is equidistant with the insulator (23) along the contact surface for the purpose of maintaining an impedance match to the incoming line (column 28 line 34-38)

It would have been obvious to one having an ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention was made to modify the probe structure of Hopfer and add the RF probe system of Scott et al to maintain an impedance match to the incoming line (column 28 line 34-38)

As to claims 2, 4, 8, 10, 14, 16, Scott et al disclose (fig 2A1) the probe conductor (21) is formed within the coaxial conductor and termination is approximately 50 ohms (column 28 line 34-38)

As to claims 3, 5,6, 9, 11, 12, 15, 17, 18, Scott et al disclose (fig 2A2) a semiconductor device, a resistor and a diode (26, column 28 line 54 - 58)

As to claim 13, Hopfer discloses (fig 1) the insulator (14) has a least a partial cross sections (semi circle) that is substantially circular in a plane substantially perpendicular to the probe conductor.

Conclusion

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1, 7, 19 have been considered but are most in view of the new ground(s) of rejection

3. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP

§ 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37

CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within

TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
